Faith works on the quilt blocks as they travel and each block tells a story about part of the journey. In the end they sew the blocks together to make a Josefina story quilt. I use this along with books such as The Quilt Story by Tomie dePaola and Patricia Polacco's The Keeping Quilt during a unit on quilts. All of my students enjoy this one!

The Josefina Story Quilt is a chapter book written more toward younger elementary students, so the Progeny Press guide suggests their study for students in grades 1-3. That range seems appropriate considering the content, length, and reading level of the book. In the story, Josefina is Faith's pet hen.

California, here we come!Faith's Pa says there's no room on a wagon train for Josefina, a chicken who's too tough to eat and too old to lay eggs. But Faith loves her pet. Can Josefina show Pa that she still has a few surprises left in her?

While traveling west with her family in 1850, a young girl makes a patchwork quilt chronicling the experiences of the journey and reserves a special patch for her pet hen Josefina.

Novel-Ties study guides contain reproducible pages in a chapter by chapter format to accompany a work of literature of the same title.

A mouse convinces a weasel he needs the ingredients from several stories to make a tasty mouse soup.

A pioneer mother lovingly stitches a beautiful quilt which warms and comforts her daughter Abigail; many years later another mother mends and patches it for her little girl.

When Faith's family packs their covered wagon for the long journey to California, there is no room for Faith's pet hen, Josefina. She is too old to lay eggs and too tough to eat, but Faith's father relents and allows her to bring her pet along, provided that she keeps Josefina out of trouble. As the wagon train begins the journey, Faith begins her patches for a quilt that will tell the story of their travels. In spite of Faith's promise to keep her chicken out of trouble, Josefina nearly causes a stampede, and falls in a river during a crossing. Just as Faith's father is ready to get rid of her, she begins to lay eggs again and is allowed to stay. As food and water become scarce, the Indians offer to trade meat and water for the family's quilts and Josefina. Faith and her mother refuse, and Josefina soon proves her worth when her loud cackling warns the family of two robbers creeping into camp. But, the difficult journey is too much for Josefina, and Faith must bravely say goodbye to her pet, using her travel quilt to tell the story of their trip and to always remember her pet, Josefina.
